4. Overview of TFEX in 2007

In 2007, TFEX developed and improved its operations in the following areas:

SET50 Index Options

As part of its aim to become a world-class exchange for the trading and hedging of a variety of derivative products, on October 29, 2007, TFEX launched SET50 Index Options as its second product. In preparation for trading this instrument, the company revised relevant regulations and practices, readied the trading system and improved its operations to ensure all related parties of the transparency and efficiency of its trading system and market surveillance.

In addition, TFEX provided training about the trading system for traders and back office staff.

Liquidity

To boost liquidity and reassure domestic and foreigner investors of the efficiency of the derivatives market, the exchange appointed KGI Securities (Thailand) PCL and Trinity Polaris Futures Co., Ltd. as market-makers to monitor the liquidity of SET 50 Index Futures and SET 50 Index Options.

• Trading channels

Members Recruitment

TFEX members act as important intermediaries between trading demand and the derivatives trading system. Therefore, the members are an important channel for approaching investors. In 2007, TFEX raised total membership to 25 with the addition of two members, UOB Bullion and Futures (Thai) Co., Ltd. and Merchant Partners Securities Co., Ltd.

Direct Market Access

In 2007, TFEX offered an additional trading channel, Direct Market Access, to market participants. This efficient and convenient mechanism will attract more investors to the derivatives market and increase trading transactions.

6

Marketing campaigns

Training Programs

TFEX is aware of the importance of strengthening the derivatives knowledge base through training for investors and related parties. In cooperation with Thailand Securities Institute (TSI), the company organized ongoing SET50 Index Futures and SET50 Index Options education for members' officers in Bangkok and other provinces. In 2007, the training reached 9,642 investors and 7,859 officers.

Furthermore, the exchange disseminated various publications, such as articles in newspapers and magazines, TV and radio documentaries and a trading program CD.

Public relations and marketing campaign

TFEX undertook a range of domestic and international marketing campaigns participating in events, such as Options Day in Bangkok, Money Expo in Bangkok, Chiangmai and Khon Kaen, Futures Industry Association Exhibition (FIA Exhibition) in the USA.

In addition, there were ongoing campaigns promoting SET50 Index Options as follows:

- TFEX Futures Camp Challenge is an online derivatives trading competition. The three rounds for investors attracted 5,121 people and a fourth round for TFEX marketing members drew 450 participants.
- LUCKY with TFEX offered prizes to the best gainers who traded SET50 Options on its first trading day, October 29, 2007.
- Top 20 Futures Icon gave awards to those TFEX marketing members who most increased the customer base.

Corporate social responsibility (CSR)

TFEX exercised its ongoing commitment to social responsibility by contributing to Thailand's social well-being through activities such as fund- raising for the Thai Red Cross Society and Fight AIDS Mini-Marathon 2007 program. The exchange supported education financially and through the Bann-Ta-Kiab school.

Cooperation with Foreign Derivatives

Exchange

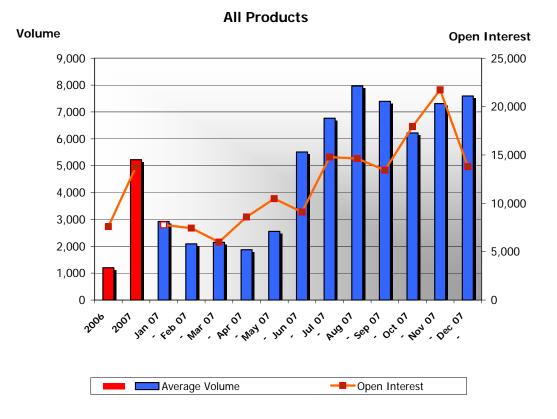

In April 2007, TFEX signed the contract with Taiwan Futures Exchange (TAIFEX) for information exchange and mutual market development. The two exchanges hosted training programs for Thai participants, Index Options: TAIFEX's Experience and Preparation for Index Options Trading: Taiwan FCM's Perspectives, from June 4-June 6.

Corporate governance policy

TFEX's mission is to observe good corporate governance (CG) practices. The Board of Directors articulates the company's mission, goals, strategy and policies and directs its operations, ensuring effective and efficient implementation. In addition, the exchange puts a high priority on internal audit, conflict of interest prevention, employee discipline and the transparent disclosure of information. Its committees advise on and supervise operations to ensure full compliance with the principles of good CG.

• Rights of shareholders and stakeholders

To be a world-class exchange for trading and hedging Thai derivatives products, TFEX emphasizes the interests of all stakeholders, including the exchange's members, institutional investors, retail investors and other related parties, such as customers, employees, government and other relevant organizations. Therefore, TFEX's committees have principles which mandate high quality service to all clients and stakeholders. In addition, in determining regulations and policies, committees must incorporate the principles of good CG and the opinions and interests of stakeholders.

TFEX Board of Directors

TFEX's BoD consists of experts whose qualifications are in accord with the 68th code of the Public Company Limited Act (1992) and 61st and 60th codes of the Derivatives Act (2003). Consequently, one director is responsible for the interests of all stakeholders and two directors must be involved in the futures market, as required in the SEC's regulations. All members of TFEX's BoD possess the qualifications mandated by the regulations.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention except for investments which are disclosed in the following accounting policies.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Thai generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the amounts of revenues and expenses in the reported periods. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results may differ from those estimates.

An English version of the financial statements has been prepared from the statutory financial statements that are in the Thai language. In the event of a conflict or a difference in interpretation between the two languages, the Thai language statutory financial statements shall prevail.

However, the Company's management is in the process of consideration the impact of new standard and revised standards adoption on the financial statements, which is expected that the adoption will not significantly affect the financial statements presented.

2.3 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are carried in the balance sheet at cost. Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and deposits held at call with banks.

2.4 Accounts receivable and accrued income

Accounts receivable represent amounts due from securities companies and other companies. Accrued income represents unbilled fees and service revenues. Accounts receivable and accrued income are presented at the anticipated net recoverable amount.

2.5 Investments

Investments in fixed deposit and promissory notes at financial institutions with maturities of three months or more are classified as general investments and stated in balance sheet at cost.

Investments in debt securities classified as held-to-maturities securities are carried at amortised cost.

A test for impairment is carried out when there is a factor indicating that such investment might be impaired. If the carrying value of the investment is higher than its recoverable amount, impairment loss is charged to the statements of income.

On disposal of an investment, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount is charged to the statements of income.

When disposing part of a particular investment in debt securities, the carrying amount of the disposed part is determined from the weight average carrying amount of the total holding of the investments.

2.6 Equipment

Equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is calculated on the straightline basis to write off the cost of each asset to its residual value over its estimated useful life of 5 years.

Where the carrying amount of an asset is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, it is written down immediately to its recoverable amount.

Repairs and maintenance are charged to the statements of income during the financial period in which they are incurred. The cost of major renovations is included in the carrying amount of the asset when it is probable that future economic benefits in excess of the originally assessed standard of performance of the existing asset will flow to the Company. Major renovations are depreciated over the remaining useful life of the related asset.

Gains and losses on disposal are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount and are included in the statements of income.

2.7 Intangible assets

Costs associated with developing or maintaining computer software programs are generally recognised as expenses in the statements of income as incurred. However, costs that are directly associated with identifiable and unique software products controlled by the Company and have probable economic benefit exceeding the cost beyond one year, are recognised as intangible assets. Direct cost includes purchase price and an appropriate portion of relevant overheads to allow such asset to be ready for its intended use.

Expenditure which enhances or extends the performance of computer software programs beyond their original specifications is recognised as a capital improvement and added to the original cost of the software. Computer software development costs recognised as assets are amortised using the straight line method over their useful life, generally over 5 years.

30)

2.8 Revenue recognition

Revenues are recognised on the following basis:

- i) Membership fees comprise initial fees and annual fees. The initial fees are recognised as revenue on the straight-line basis of 5 years started from the first day of service rendered and annual fees are recognised upon performance of services.
- ii) Trading fees are recognised upon performance of services.
- iii) Information service fees upon performance of services.
- iv) Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis taking account of the principal outstanding and the effective rate over the period to maturity, when it is determined that such income will accrue to the Company.
- v) Other revenues are recognised on an accrual basis.

2.9 Employee benefits

The Company participates a provident fund with the Stock Exchange of Thailand which is the major shareholder. The provident fund is a defined contribution plan.
